The Psychedelic, Tie-Dyed Dance Super Hero known as Mister Tony is making his way across America on his first “Bring the Happy” Tour

Las Vegas, Nevada, August 30, 2012 – Americans Beware! The psychedelic, undulating, rhythmic bundle of German happiness known as Mister Tony is dancing his way to a town near you and he is bringing a message that he hopes will resonate around the world -- “Leben und Lieben” which is German for live and love. Mister Tony is a celebrity personality that makes appearances and gives performances aimed at making people dance and have a good time through music and cheer. He, Mister Tony, is, the Happy Meister.

In a voice that would immediately remind you of the Terminator, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Mister Tony proudly exclaims, “My primary purpose in life is to bring the happy”, and this he does like no other person on the planet. A celebrity personality, a dancer, and now a singer-songwriter with the upcoming release of his new dance album entitled “Living The Extreme”, Mister Tony is one unique individual. Known for his outlandish costumes, troll wigs, bright and vibrant tie-dye colors, and unforgettable baritone German accent, Mister Tony enjoys meeting people and spreading his brand of light humor and good-natured fun to everyone.

Mister Tony once lived a plain, ordinary life filled with routine tasks – not unlike so many of us. Tony was an automotive engineer working out of Greenville, South Carolina when suddenly, without warning, his world turned upside down. His wife of nine years decided to go back to her home in Germany to visit family. One month later, she calls and says she will not be returning to America, and oh, by the way, I am filing for divorce. Next, his cat of 13 years died. Then his dog of nine years died as well. And of course, to complete the fall, Tony lost his high paying engineering job. Given the circumstances, many people would have lost hope or given up, but not Tony.

'You cannot kill me. I'm not afraid of dying. ... I love to shock people. They think I'm weird. But I can't be normal again. That's so-o-o boring.'" Those who have the fortune of witnessing Mister Tony in action can attest that his style and appearance is anything but boring. Like a modern day super hero, Mister Tony arrives at an event to serve as a positive force of good. His weapon of choice is called the Happy Howitzer, which is a t-shirt firing air cannon. He travels in his custom painted Happy Hearse which fires bubbles, has a fog machine, and contains an awesome speaker system that can blasts upbeat tunes and turn any area into a ready made party.

Amazingly, Mister Tony will be conducting his first Happy Tour across the United States and visiting college campuses beginning September 2nd in Greenville, South Carolina. Over a two-week period he will be driving the Happy Hearse to Clemson, Athens, Atlanta, Biloxi, New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Houston, College Station, Tucson, Phoenix, Los Angeles, Hoover Dam, and finally Las Vegas. Specific dates, times and locations will be posted and updated regularly at www.mistertony.com.

About Mister Tony

Mister Tony is a Las Vegas based entertainer available for personal and group appearances. Imagine taking Pee Wee Herman, Lady Gaga and a cute troll doll then place them in a bag, pour in several pounds of tie-dye and shake vigorously. The outcome would be the entertainer known as Mister Tony. Mister Tony sings, he dances, he tells jokes, and more importantly – he makes you smile. Let Mister Tony bring the happy to you.
